preserve the public peace, health, or safety, or may be appropriations for the support and maintenance of the departments of state and state institutions, and are designated in their text as requiring such earlier operation, for such reason, and no bill containing an emergency clause shall be considered as passed unless it shall have received the affirmative votes of at least two-thirds of the entire membership of the general assembly, and if any such law shall be vetoed by the governor, it shall not become a law unless it shall receive the affirmative vote of three-fourths of the entire membership of the general assembly. The veto power of the governor shall not extend to measures initiated by or referred to the people. All elections on measures referred to the people of the state shall be held at the biennial, regular, general election, and all such measures shall become the law or a part of the constitution when approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, and not otherwise, and shall take effect from and after the date of the official declaration of the vote thereon by proclamation of the governor, but not later than thirty days after the vote has been canvassed. This section shall not be construed to deprive the general assembly of the right to enact any measure. The whole number of votes cast for governor at the regular, general election last preceding the filing of any petition for the initiative or referendum shall be the basis on which the number of legal voters necessary shall be counted.

"The secretary of state shall submit all measures initiated by or referred to the people for adoption or rejection at the polls in compliance herewith.

"The petitions shall consist of sheets having such general form printed or written at the top thereof as shall be designated or prescribed by the secretary of state. Such petitions shall be signed by qualified electors, in their own proper person only, to which shall be attached the residence address of such persons and the date of signing the same. To each of such petitions, which shall be attached an affidavit of some qualified elector that each signature thereon is the signature of the person whose name it purports to be, and that, to the best knowledge and belief of the affiant, each of the persons signing said petition so verified, shall be prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and true, and that the persons signing the same are qualified electors. The text of all measures to be submitted shall be published as constitutional amendments are published and in submitting the same and in all matters pertaining to the form of all petitions, the secretary of state and all other officers shall be guided by the general law until legislation shall be especially provided therefor.

"The enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: 'Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Arizona,' or, when the initiative is used: 'Be it enacted by the people of the state of Arizona.'

"The initiative and referendum powers reserved to the people by this section are hereby further reserved to the legal voters of every city, town, and municipality, as to all local, special, and municipal legislation of every character in or for their respective municipalities. The manner of exercising said powers shall be prescribed by general laws, except that cities, towns and municipalities may provide for the manner of exercising the initiative and referendum power as to their municipal legislation. Not more than 10 per cent of the legal voters may be required to order the referendum, nor more than 15 per cent to propose any measure by the initiative in any city, town or municipality.

"This section of the constitution shall be, in all respects, self-executing."

Other direct legislation propositions were introduced by Mr. Cassidy of Maricopa and Mr. Cuniff of Yavapai. The former provides for a petition of 10 per cent for the initiative, and for the referendum 5 per cent. This proposition deals also with the organization of legislatures and contains among other things a prohibition of the "caucus."

Mr. Cuniff's proposition provides for an initiative on 10 per cent and a referendum on 6 per cent.

Five other propositions were submitted by Mr. Cuniff: One validating for the state of Arizona several of the territorial statutes; one establishing an eight-hour law; one prohibiting the loaning of the state's credit for private purposes; one prohibiting the exemption of private or corporate property from taxation, except the property of religious, educational and charitable institutions, and one relating to the amendment of the constitution, amendments to be proposed on a petition signed by 20 per cent of the voters.

Mr. Webb of Graham presented a proposition looking to the prohibition

JEFFRIES JOHNSON
PICTURES TONIGHTWill Be Seen at Majestic Theater
After the Regular Show.

Phoenix fight fans will tonight have an opportunity to see the original Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures. Arrangements have been made with Sid Hester, who is showing the pictures through this section, to exhibit them at the Majestic theater tonight, beginning at 10:30.

Last night the fight pictures were seen in Tempe, where they were pronounced fine. Hester had already agreed to show at Mesa tonight, but last evening a bunch of local enthusiasts went over to Tempe and persuaded him to rush his films over to Phoenix after the performance in the cantaloupe town.

"The pictures themselves are fine," said one of the Phoenix fans who autographed over to Tempe. "Of course we all know that the fight was such a stirring contest, as prize fights go, but the films are certainly great. I never saw moving pictures that were clearer. Every movement of each fighter is reproduced plainly upon the screen."

Only tonight will the pictures be seen here. To keep his other engagements, Hester must leave the city immediately after the exhibition at the Majestic.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND THEATER.

Seldom if ever has the Phoenix theatergoers had the opportunity of seeing such a complete and classic production as the one by Billie Friedlander and his own big company at the Grand last night. "The Boy and the Girl" was a new variety of comedy to our boards, and at times the tense, dramatic scenes reminded one of the fact that there is a serious side to life. Then the situation was relieved by some good, clean, legitimate comedy, far different from the cheap, slap-stick efforts to amuse that we so often see. Surely Dunlop was fortunate in securing a company so clever in legitimate comedy lines to inaugurate his first term as theater manager.

Every member of the company had the opportunity to appear in a role exactly suited to himself; yes, and herself. Mr. Friedlander as Dick Ross certainly captivated his audience and held them at his will, causing laughter with every light line and almost bringing them to tears during the tense scenes.

Miss Halperin, the pretty little daughter of the owner of Dunlop's ranch, endeared herself more and more with each word uttered and no doubt each person present would like to see more of her in these parts.

Mr. Arthur Selber, as the foolish and lovesick young man about town, gave such a close imitation of some of our local "sports" that he might have copied the action of some of them from life right here in Phoenix. Mr. Fred La Zone as the man "who gets what he wants," is certainly a true delineator of the man who stops at nothing to attain his end and nothing could be more realistic than this first attempt in dramatic work on a local stage.

Miss Hathaway was beautiful and had an opportunity to display her real talented self in a suitable role. Miss Eva North, the dainty little Miss Marsden, was a hit and every line spoken and every appearance she made was appreciated by her hearers.

"Miss Devona May is here again, glad to get back before a Phoenix audience and is much loved by all."

Mr. Bedville and Mr. Edmundson, both more than made good in their respective roles, and we should like to see more of them in comedy drama.

The members of the Friedlander company have to be seen in legitimate comedy to be appreciated, and while the writer has seen many musical comedy companies, never before one with a caste which could compete with the members of this one when brought to the test in real legitimate dramatic lines.

COLISEUM.

Last night closed one of the most successful weeks in the history of this house, the management state that they have an exceptionally strong bill to offer for tonight, consisting of Turach and Raquit, presenting a Spanish transformation act and also a singing and dancing turn, they appearing in some very beautiful costumes. The next number, Knotts & Lawrence, will appear in a black-face singing and dancing turn, and "The Two Longfellow" will present a singing and eccentric dancing turn. A new line of pictures will be given, also new music by the orchestra. A large force of carpenters is at work today finishing the enclosing and replacing of the roof, thereby making it warm and cozy for the cool evenings which we are now having.

MAJESTIC.

If very many more theater-goers had turned out to see "The Arizona Scouts," Doc Echlin would have turned them away last night. There was a big crowd at the Majestic and it saw a rattling good show.

In fact "The Arizona Scouts" was even better than was expected. The comedy and musical numbers are great, while the wardrobe is simply grand.

All the principles of the company appear in character roles and do fine work. Miss Marian Rochester made a big hit with her "Boo-hoo" musical number.

"The Arizona Scouts" continues tonight and tomorrow night. Thursday evening "The Widow McGinty" will be put on. Friday night comes the chorus girls' contest for $20 in gold. This will positively be the most interesting event pulled off for many months in any local theater. In addition to the regular show and the contest, the city quartet and two amateur vaudevillians will furnish fun for the audience.

THE GREAT FIRE.

Blessed is the woman who has a grate which can be filled with big sticks of wood which give warmth and light to the home during the cool mornings and evenings. The city woman with a gas grate will get all the comfort she can out of that, for although it is a sorry substitute, she considers it better than no grate at all. When you start the children and the husband off in the morning, do you ever recall the words of Tennyson put into the mouth of Enoch Arden, who said to his wife: "Keep a clear fire and a clean hearth for me." There are a lot of other men besides Enoch Arden who love the open grate fire and who look forward to it with pleasurable anticipation. Furnaces, steam heat and all sorts of new heating contrivances are convenient and probably are far more sanitary, since they give a more even heat, but as an ideal gathering place for the family a grate fire cannot be surpassed.

THE HARROW TO BUY

THE ECONOMY DISC HARROW acknowledges no equal. There is not another harrow on the market that presents so many valuable features. It is a graceful, neat appearing implement, and at the same time has strength to spare. The frame bars are of high carbon steel, as stiff and hard as can be worked in a blacksmith shop. The discs are heavy, with long, sharp bevel, and nicely polished. The spools have a large face that acts as a brace for center of disc and prevents breakage in rough work. The harrow has great flexibility and readily adapts itself to uneven ground. One section may override obstructions or dip into dead furrows without affecting the work of the other section. The gangs cut a uniform depth their entire length. The bearings are of hard maple, with double surface to meet the end wear.

DOUBLE LEVER ECONOMY.

A patented spring device gives both inside and outside bearings an equal amount of end thrust. By using this device it is unnecessary to have any contact between the inner ends of disc gangs, thus insuring greater flexibility, less friction and lighter draft. The scrapers are the most satisfactory to be found on any disc harrow. The openings in the brackets are so shaped as to admit of the scraper bar being rocked back and forth with the foot levers, thus forcing the blades to sweep the entire face of the discs from center to edge. The scraper is always held firmly against the face of the disc.

The Economy Disc Harrow is also made with double lever, and where such an implement is in demand it finds no superior. Having independent levers, each gang can be set at any desired angle independently of the other.
